

About the work

The wood that I mainly use is walnuts and black walnuts to make works.

The work is impregnated with a solvent that strengthens the wood fibers, dried and then painted with sesame oil.

Please use sesame oil or walnut oil to care for work. Or beeswax is OK.

Wood pieces can be washed just like any other tableware, but it's best to do oil maintenance from time to time as the oil drains and dries out after many washes.

- Microwave oven NG
- Leaving it in the water is NG
- Strongly direct sunlight is NG
- Dishwasher and dryer NG
- For maintenance, walnut oil or sesame oil or beeswax is good.
- When oil maintenance for maintenance, do it when the work is not wet.

Think of oil maintenance on wood works as the same as caring for human skin.

And if you do not use the work, the work looks poor.

Please use a lot and enjoy your daily table.

Thank you.
